

It is critical that people who wear hearing aids or who have cochlear implants be allowed to test mobile phones in-store before purchasing to determine if the phone causes interference and to make sure there is enough volume control. It is cumbersome, time consuming and expensive to purchase and then have to return the product. Thank you very much.